▼ BELLEVUE CO-CONCERTMASTER ACCOUNTABILITY

In the Bellevue Baptist Church orchestra there is a co-concertmaster position shared among several people.

Concertmaster

-noun

Definition: the leader of the first violins in a symphony orchestra, who is usually also the assistant to the conductor.

One would think that the assistant to the conductor would have to be responsible individuals, on time, etc. As a service to the BBC orchestra, the Viola Union is going to keep the co-concertmasters responsible and accountable by posting a monthly review of each person. The page will be updated several times weekly as practices/performance are held.

If you would like to dispute the information on these pages (even though they are 100 percent accurate), or if you are one of the co-concertmasters and want to argue with something we posted, feel free to email us at contact@violaunion.com

Since we started our accountability form, here are the cumulative stats:

Adrienne: ON TIME 22 TIMES | ABSENT 8 TIMES | LATE 15 TIMES | LEFT EARLY 3 TIMES

Grace: ON TIME 6 TIMES | ABSENT 11 TIMES | LATE 27 TIMES | LEFT EARLY 2 TIMES

Cary: ON TIME 34 TIMES | ABSENT 2 TIMES | LATE 9 TIMES | NEVER LEFT EARLY

These results are shocking, primarily because our concertmasters together are LATE or ABSENT more than 50% of the time!

Come on, people. Is this a JOB or a HOBBY?
